

Cameron Arthur

Associate

Cameron Arthur is an ambitious associate in the firm's Real Estate Practice Group with specific knowledge in various aspects of commercial real estate transactions including acquisitions, land use and zoning due diligence, title review and leasing.

Prior to joining Quarles & Brady, Cameron worked as an associate for Bowman and Brooke, LLP, where he focused his practice on commercial and contract litigation as well as products liability defense work for the major automotive manufacturers. He also worked as a judicial extern for the Honorable Lisa Daniel Flores of the Maricopa County Superior Court. Although he now seeks to broaden his expertise by working on commercial real estate transactions with the firm's Real Estate Practice Group, he hopes to provide a new viewpoint to his work through his prior experience handling all aspects of commercial and contract litigation.

Cameron was a member of the intercollegiate rowing team at the University of California, Santa Barbara, where he studied Spanish and spent a semester abroad in Santiago, Chile.
