

Jerome C. Mohsen

Associate

Jerome Mohsen practices in the firm's Litigation & Dispute Resolution Practice Group. He has substantial experience in insurance law, shareholder disputes, municipal law, administrative law, consumer actions, bid protests, and contract law.

Jerome has represented large, mid-size, and small corporations in breach-of-contract and insurance disputes. Jerome has represented international corporations and national banks in several consumer actions. Additionally, Jerome has helped municipalities save taxpayer dollars by negotiating the settlement of eminent domain procedures and dealing with federal agency claims.

Jerome practices in state and federal trial courts as well as the Wisconsin Court of Appeals and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

Committed to pro bono service, Jerome has represented local and national nonprofit organizations, renters at risk of eviction, and litigants seeking to enforce their constitutional rights. He has received numerous awards for his pro bono work in federal and state courts.

Before practicing law, Jerome was an English teacher in Milwaukee area high schools.
