Experienced public finance lawyers who are dedicated to client service

Operating as part of a national, full-service law firm with 130 years serving clients, the Quarles Public Finance Practice Group has industry knowledge and legal experience as broad as it is deep. Our public finance lawyers serve as bond counsel, special issuer's counsel, purchaser's counsel, disclosure counsel and underwriter's counsel for state, public authority, special district and municipal issuers; school districts and technical colleges; conduit issuers and borrowers; and broker-dealer underwriters. Our legal advice to you is sharpened by a keen understanding of changing legislation and best practice. We stay abreast of the latest developments by working on transactions that are in the market every day. We are also members of the National Association of Bond Lawyers, the Bond Dealers of America and various state and local public finance organizations.

Attorneys at the heart of the public finance community

Our Public Finance attorneys are proud to be at the heart of their industry. We frequently take the lead with respect to following and providing input on legislative initiatives. We provide feedback on proposed legislation and have organized summits of public finance professionals, municipal officers, municipal advisors and concerned associations to address potential negative implications of proposals. We regularly present at school district, municipal and bond community conferences.

- Commitment to diversity. We are committed to hiring, training and advancing minority and women attorneys. We are leaders in
